Dwight Cendrowski is an Ann Arbor photographer and videographer in the Detroit Michigan area. He's been photographing for corporate and editorial clients since 1978, and is one of the best known photographers in Detroit. Dwight combines a photojournalism background with lighting expertise to bring life and realism to corporate and industrial photography for annual reports, brochures and company magazines. He travels throughout the United States and Canada for assignments, and has worked in Canada, Ghana, Japan, China and Europe.

On the editorial side he shoots for a wide range of business, trade, company and consumer magazines. He's equipped to provide complete post-production digital services, including web image preview galleries, fully optimized high resolution digital image files, and fast, safe digital delivery.

Specializing in midwest healthcare photography and university photography, Dwight also licenses these images for stock use. The stock photo file also includes business, industrial, travel and lifestyle photos.

Dwight provides high definition digital video services in Michigan. More and more often companies are looking for web video to highlight their company capabilities. Dwight brings all his lighting and production skills to executive profiles and conference coverage. He also writes, providing photo/story packages for company magazines.

If you're searching for a professional Detroit photographer, magazine photographer or video production in Michigan, the midwest, or around the world, contact Dwight. For creativity, a track record of dependability, professionalism and 39 years of experience
