Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

A gardener turned award-winning designer I have a deep-rooted fascination for all things floral and specialises in creating beautiful botanically inspired illustration.

Training at first with the Royal Horticultural Society before completing a Masters degree in Textile Design at Chelsea College of Art I now use my passion for plants to create botanically inspired illustrations from my studio at Cockpit Arts in South London. Combining the visual and historical interest of botany with an appreciation of decorative design my hand painted motifs have proven a natural fit for a variety of editorial, promotional and commercial projects.

From tents to teapots or books to bicycles if your project needs a little botanical beautification why not get in touch.
