Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

"to modify or build according to individual or personal specifications or preference."

GDV is a customization company that delivers creative direction that is personal to it's customers, bringing out their originality, imagination and identity that best represents them. We encourage individual ideas that explore, experiment and create a personal or business style.

We are dedicated to offering alternative thinking and creative ideas. At the heart of GDV is building sincere relationships. GDV approach each project as a design brief, liaising with customers and forming a brief before starting out. The briefs act as a guideline to ensure the finished product matches exactly our customer's expectations and often exceeding them.

Customization can take a variety of forms and our team are dedicated to extending the boundaries of what can be customized. From business to business (B2B) to expanding on an idea... whatever your needs, the GDV team believe they can help from Branding, Graphic Design to Illustration, from the initial idea to the launch, small projects and to larger commissioned projects.

The same principles that govern our work in customization are also applied to other areas of Graphic Design, Illustration and whether it is producing work in print (flyers, posters etc) to social media, we apply the same ethics to each individual project.

Did you succeed in bringing something into your mind? Did you see the image of something? If you did... and most of us can imagine someone or something well... we know the true beginning of the process, to unlock your imagination. Before you can use our imagination we need to have it clear what you are thinking about. We need to define imagination before we are able to unlock its potential. Most of us have a limited imagination and can think up the most beautiful of ideas but do not have the creativity to bring it to life. We unlock your imagination by freeing your mind. We develop a clear definition of the brief, understanding exactly what you need. This inspiration stage allows us to find the imagination in our work to improve your life. Finding out all the ideas that are close to the client, and proposing what the idea is or behind the concept. Imagination is a whole other universe... where anything is possible.
