Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

Co-founder and Creative Director for Hole Punch Design, Natalie ensures that the design and message are always in harmony. Her commitment to a clean and simple aesthetic carries through all of her work. Natalie has been doing graphic design work for the past ten years, and launched her own freelance company in 2008. A National Merit Scholar, Natalie graduated summa cum laude with a dual degree in advertising and English from the University of Florida. When not working, Natalie can usually be found dining out with friends, watching movies, or enjoying the outdoors. She loves walking all over Los Angeles and spends absent moments planning her next trip to Paris.
