We are building the biggest, baddest innovation sandbox. Right in the heart of NYC.

Function(x) marries creativity with capital, connections and technology expertise.

We're bringing together the brightest minds in software engineering, product development, business and marketing, and setting them loose in a global-scale sandbox with the latest tools and resources for success.

We connect the big ideas with global entertainment partnerships, audiences and distribution channels. We may have a hip Union Square office, but we're not just another start-up. The (x) in Function(x) represents founder and leading media entrepreneur Robert F.X. Sillerman and we're the next chapter in his inventive, irreverent, and undeniably successful business legacy.
