BIO

Kamloops based commercial photographer Kelly Funk believes that a successful, high-end product should always be expected and not just hoped for from his clients. Whether it be branding and promotional marketing for a commercial business or corporation, or fresh head shots to showcase a professional, progressive look, his contemporary perspective and ability to create using studio, urban and natural settings guarantees a strong finished product.

One of Kelly's primary strengths is his ability to diversify and utilize his amazing creative energy and vision. With experience ranging from national and provincial commercial clients, advertising and tourism agencies, special projects for charitable organizations and stock work, his technique is transferred from one application to another with an eclectic approach that clients are drawn to. Great care and attention are paid to those clients to create the best possible result, by listening intently to their vision and working as a team to bring those visions to life. He doesn't believe in hype, instead he lets his work speak for itself and has built his brand to an elite level.

A lifelong resident of BC, Kelly's professional service and quality images have garnered him with consistent praise from his clients. With over 20 years in the business, Kelly has worked with a diverse and extensive client list
