Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

KORB is a Vilnius-based digital filmmaking and design company founded by CGI director Rimantas Lukavicius. While focusing on visual effects, motion design, live action and mixed media projects, the company is able to expand the creative and technical team worldwide, which creates opportunities for implementation of the most unique projects.

KORB's philosophy is based on an unconventional idea that beauty is not subjective any more, which leads to a new aesthetic concept. Collaborating with ad agencies, productions and clients KORB explores the physical and mathematical nature of unusual forms, substances and materials, which reveals the particular field of photorealism in the industry - photosurrealism.
