Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

Leah Marjanne Romero is a New York City raised, Ecuadorian-American illustrator, currently residing in Philadelphia, soon to be moving to Los Angeles. In 2012, she received her BFA in Illustration from The University of the Arts. Leah's style is influenced by her hispanic background, love of nature and affinity for flora and architecture but is not bound by them. She is more than comfortable trying new things! Along with her love of illustration, she also shares a passion for bookbinding, beading, print making and cooking.
