Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

LULU* gathered her first impressions of form and color in her mother's flower shop in Solingen, Germany, where she was born in 1977. This early inspiration is still visible in some of her fashion illustration work, while her other work refers to computer graphics or retro aesthetics. LULU* creates her illustrations through a sophisticated process of combining hand-drawn motives with computer elements, which together make up the formal and technical synthesis defining LULU's widely appreciated illustration style. In 2002, LULU graduated with a degree in design from the Cologne International School of Design. After experiences working in San Francisco design firm Futurefarmers and Swiss design office Buero Destruct, she started to focus on her own work as an illustrator and settled in Berlin in 2003. After her first illustration work for Tyler Brulé at Wink Creative, she quickly became known as one of Germany's emerging talents in illustration design, working for clients such as Bloomingdale's and Mercedes Benz. In 2005 she was chosen as one of the 20 top visual artists by the American magazine "Print," and she was also shortlisted that same year by American Illustration. The following year, she was selected as one of the leading 100 talents in Germany in 2006. She is based in Berlin, where she lives with her husband and two daughters.
