Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

My name is Disha Sharma and I am a freelance illustrator focusing on botanical and food illustrations used in editorial and packaging design, branding and advertising.

With a huge fascination about nature and its colors, I love to recreate botanical, floral and natural elements on paper using watercolors. I enjoy looking into details and creating botanical and food illustrations. Watercolor is my primary medium of choice with other mediums including gouache, pencils and procreate.

I accept commissions from a range of clients including magazines, packaging and branding. I work with both commercial and private clients. I have worked with a number of editorial and commercial clients including Baltimore Magazine, Gravy by Southern Foodways Alliance, Paperlike and Michele's Granola.

Looking for some beautiful illustrations for your product packaging, or editorial projects? I am just an Email away. Email me at markdisha@gmail.com
