Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

It all started with a pencil stroke over three decades ago. With my parents' support the scribbles and doodles soon turned into appealing visuals.

During my "commercial art school" days in Bombay, I learnt about patience and of course all the basics to become an "Ad man".

Then life happened... and at the start of my career, i let things unfold and grabbed lifelines...

My constant quest for challenges took me to London where i guess the rough edges were sandpapered. The university professors pointed to the horizon and - like spermatozoa - we had to find our way. I became more analytical, eclectic and above all an autonomous learner!

Life happened again... and i grabbed lifelines...
