Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

We're Sophie and Niall from Falmouth's Creative Advertising MA. We are a creative team searching for placements in London. A challenge indeed with all the competition.

We are a team of a boy and a girl, but as are many others. We're interested in both traditional advertising and more general brand experiences and big ideas, but as are many others. Despite our titles we can both draw and write, but that again is not a unique trait. Niall says we have a go-get-em can-do attitude and razor-sharp wit. Sophie says we both have completely different interests and yet manage to get excited about the same things. We are fresh out of an amazing course, and all these things combined make us a one of a kind creative team.
