Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

Hailing from Dudley in the UK, Andy graduated with a BA Hons in Illustration from Portsmouth University in 1995. Soon after he moved to London and partnered up with an Apple Mac to pursue dual careers in new media and freelance illustration. Since then the commissions have flown in, ranging from advertising, book covers and editorial spots for international newspapers and magazines. His style is an energetic fusion of traditional and new techniques, where hand crafted elements collide with digital collage, 3d and photography with colourful results. He is a member of UK illustration collective Black Convoy, has exhibited work in London, Europe and the US and also works with animation, recently creating his first feature film titles. He lives in London with his wife-to-be Liz.
