Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

Expert retouching can bring your photographs to life and help you to create extraordinary visuals that will captivate the audience. At Begemotfoto Retouching we do exactly that. We are an experienced post production company dedicated to creative retouching and our philosophy is simple - to get your ideas across in the most effective way possible. We may be a small company in size, but we are certainly big in our intentions to get what you need and to provide you with a personal and highly-professional service.

Simply said, from creating 'basic look' to complicated compositing with CGI elements and everything in between - we can do it for you, cost effectively and efficiently. Because everyone is unique - and given extensive photographic background under our belt, too - we will insure first hand to get to know your style and discuss your artistic goal in order to achieve the look you are after.

We have worked closely with photographers, art directors and agencies and have been fortunate to be involved in many outstanding projects. That's why we understand that communication is integral and paramount and so for every job we take on we'll help you to coordinate your shoot based on post production needs and make sure all the aspects are taken care of before post production begins. We are also available for on-set liaison if required.

Please have a look at our portfolio and we hope you'll be impressed with what you see here.
