Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae
I started in Cornwall where I studies Graphic Design, after graduating I started work at a branding and interior design agency called Absolute. I spent two years there artworking, setting work ready for print and doing general production assistant monkey work. I decided to go freelance because I felt the way business there was handled was bad. Since then I've spent coming on four years as a freelance designer and have enjoyed it a lot more. During those four years I've had a many different clients from a wide variety of professions and have learnt many things the hard way. Since starting working for myself I've learnt html and CSS as well as Adobe After Effects to add web design and motion graphic design to my bow. I enjoy working as a multidisciplinary designer because I prefer to have a variety of mediums to work in.
